 Text is green, not black, showing it was not a part of the original abstract digital file.

Here's the A in Alvin Onaka's signature with the middle area erased around what looks like the number 3 upside-down. Does it look to you like simply random dirt?

Above is how they look when viewed as one layer

The bottom stamp is angled downward, but the 3 missing digits are not angled.

The numbers should be at an angle, like the rest of the stamp letters, but they are straight up.

The right 1 looks like it was made by a ball-point pen, heavier pressure at the top, less at the bottom.
